FOREWORD

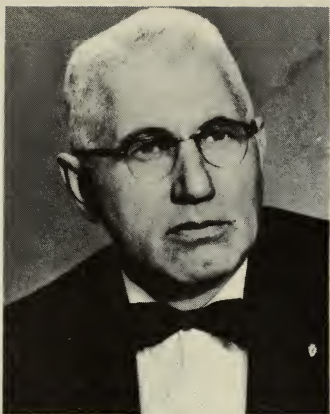

In the challenging years which are ahead for this State and the nation, Juvenal's ideal of "a sound mind in a sound body" will become increasingly important. The demands placed upon men who venture into space will be such that their mental skills cannot be used fully if their physical well-being is not at the peak of perfection.

But for the millions of men whose lives will be spent right here in the increasingly complex and tension-filled atmosphere of our huge urban areas, physical fitness will be important, as important as it is to astronauts. Pressures and tensions will continue to build up for all Americans—and athletics reduces those pressures.

The fine thing about the pursuit of physical fitness has always seemed to me to be that it was fun—as well as "good for us". Here at the University of Illinois we have had a physical education and athletic program that has made it possible for every man on this campus to develop a healthy body at the same time he is developing his intellectual skills. Moreover, in our sports program there is such variety that many different tastes can be satisfied and all—no matter how great, or how small the athletic aptitude—can participate and have fun. We are proud of our physical education and athletic program and we urge each of you to use it and enjoy it.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS-MESSAGE

John O. Jones
Director of Athletics

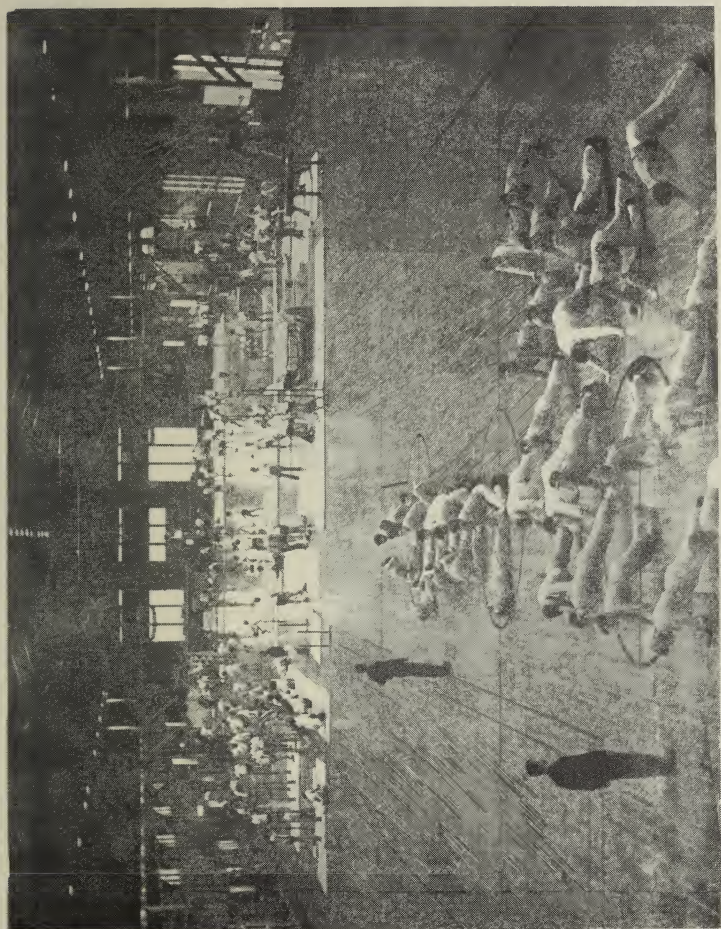

chesis, comes from student fees. Students, then, do not pay for admission to home games. Parents of students currently enrolled are also admitted to all home games upon presentation of I.D. cards that may be picked up at the Athletic office.

The finest coaching staff in the country directs these activities. Since the program started more than two thirds of all contests have been won. Some teams have gained national recognition. Individual athletes from here have made the U.S. Olympic team, been named to All-American teams, and many have gone to earn letters and some to captain teams on the Urbana campus.

Every attempt has been made to build a program that is educationally sound. As a result it has had enthusiastic support from the University administration. Students, who can find it possible, will gain much through participation. It is an opportunity to belong to a group, to make lasting friendships, to gain the satisfaction of worthwhile competition.

The purpose of the athletic program on this campus is "to provide opportunities for students who normally enroll here to participate in sports on a level suitable to their abilities". For some this means competition on an intramural level and for others participation in one or more intercollegiate sports. In the eleven intercollegiate sports competition is on various levels. Some teams compete with the best in the country and others with only smaller colleges.

There are no athletic scholarships and financial support for the program, including W.A.A. and Or-

INTERCOLLEGIATE RULES

Intercollegiate eligibility rules have been established with the idea of assisting UIC athletes to improve their academic standard.

1. After each four week period, each student will turn in to the physical education office a report of progress from each of his instructors.
2. If the student is reported as "unsatisfactory," he will have a two week period to improve to a satisfactory level or be removed from his team.
3. A student on academic probation at the start of a semester is ineligible until the end of the fourth week. If his grades are such as to meet the terms of his probation, he is eligible.
4. A student is "unsatisfactory" if the quality of his work will lead to probable failure or if the instructor believes that the student is capable of doing better work.
5. The student must carry at least 12 hours a semester of regular academic work.
6. Any student who has not graduated from a college or university is eligible. He must be an amateur and must not have applied his athletic skills in any professional manner.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION SERVICE PROGRAM FOR MEN

GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The objectives of guidance is to place students efficiently in classes with regard to their needs, interests and abilities.

The student's score on the Physical Education Placement Test is used to determine the type of activity in which the student may enroll. If the student scores less than 50 on the test, he is required to enroll in Developmental Activities. If he scores between 50 and 65, he may enroll in any of the Limited Choice courses. If he scores 65 or over, he has the opportunity to enroll in any course he desires.

If the student has some handicap or disability, he does not take the Physical Education Placement Test, but is placed in a Prescribed Exercise class where he engages in activities of a remedial nature.

All of the physical education service courses are divided into four main areas: gymnastics, developmental activities, combatives, and recreational sports. A student is requested to take no more than two courses in any one area, thereby making it possible for him to obtain variety in physical education activities.

Students with no experience in recreational activities during their first three semesters are required to enroll in a recreational activity during their final semester in physical education.

USE OF FACILITIES

All students enrolled in the University may obtain a basket, towel, and lock from the equipment room. There is no deposit for these items; however, any loss or damage will be charged to the student's general deposit fee.
